

CIMA Calgary Transit: Overcoming the last mile

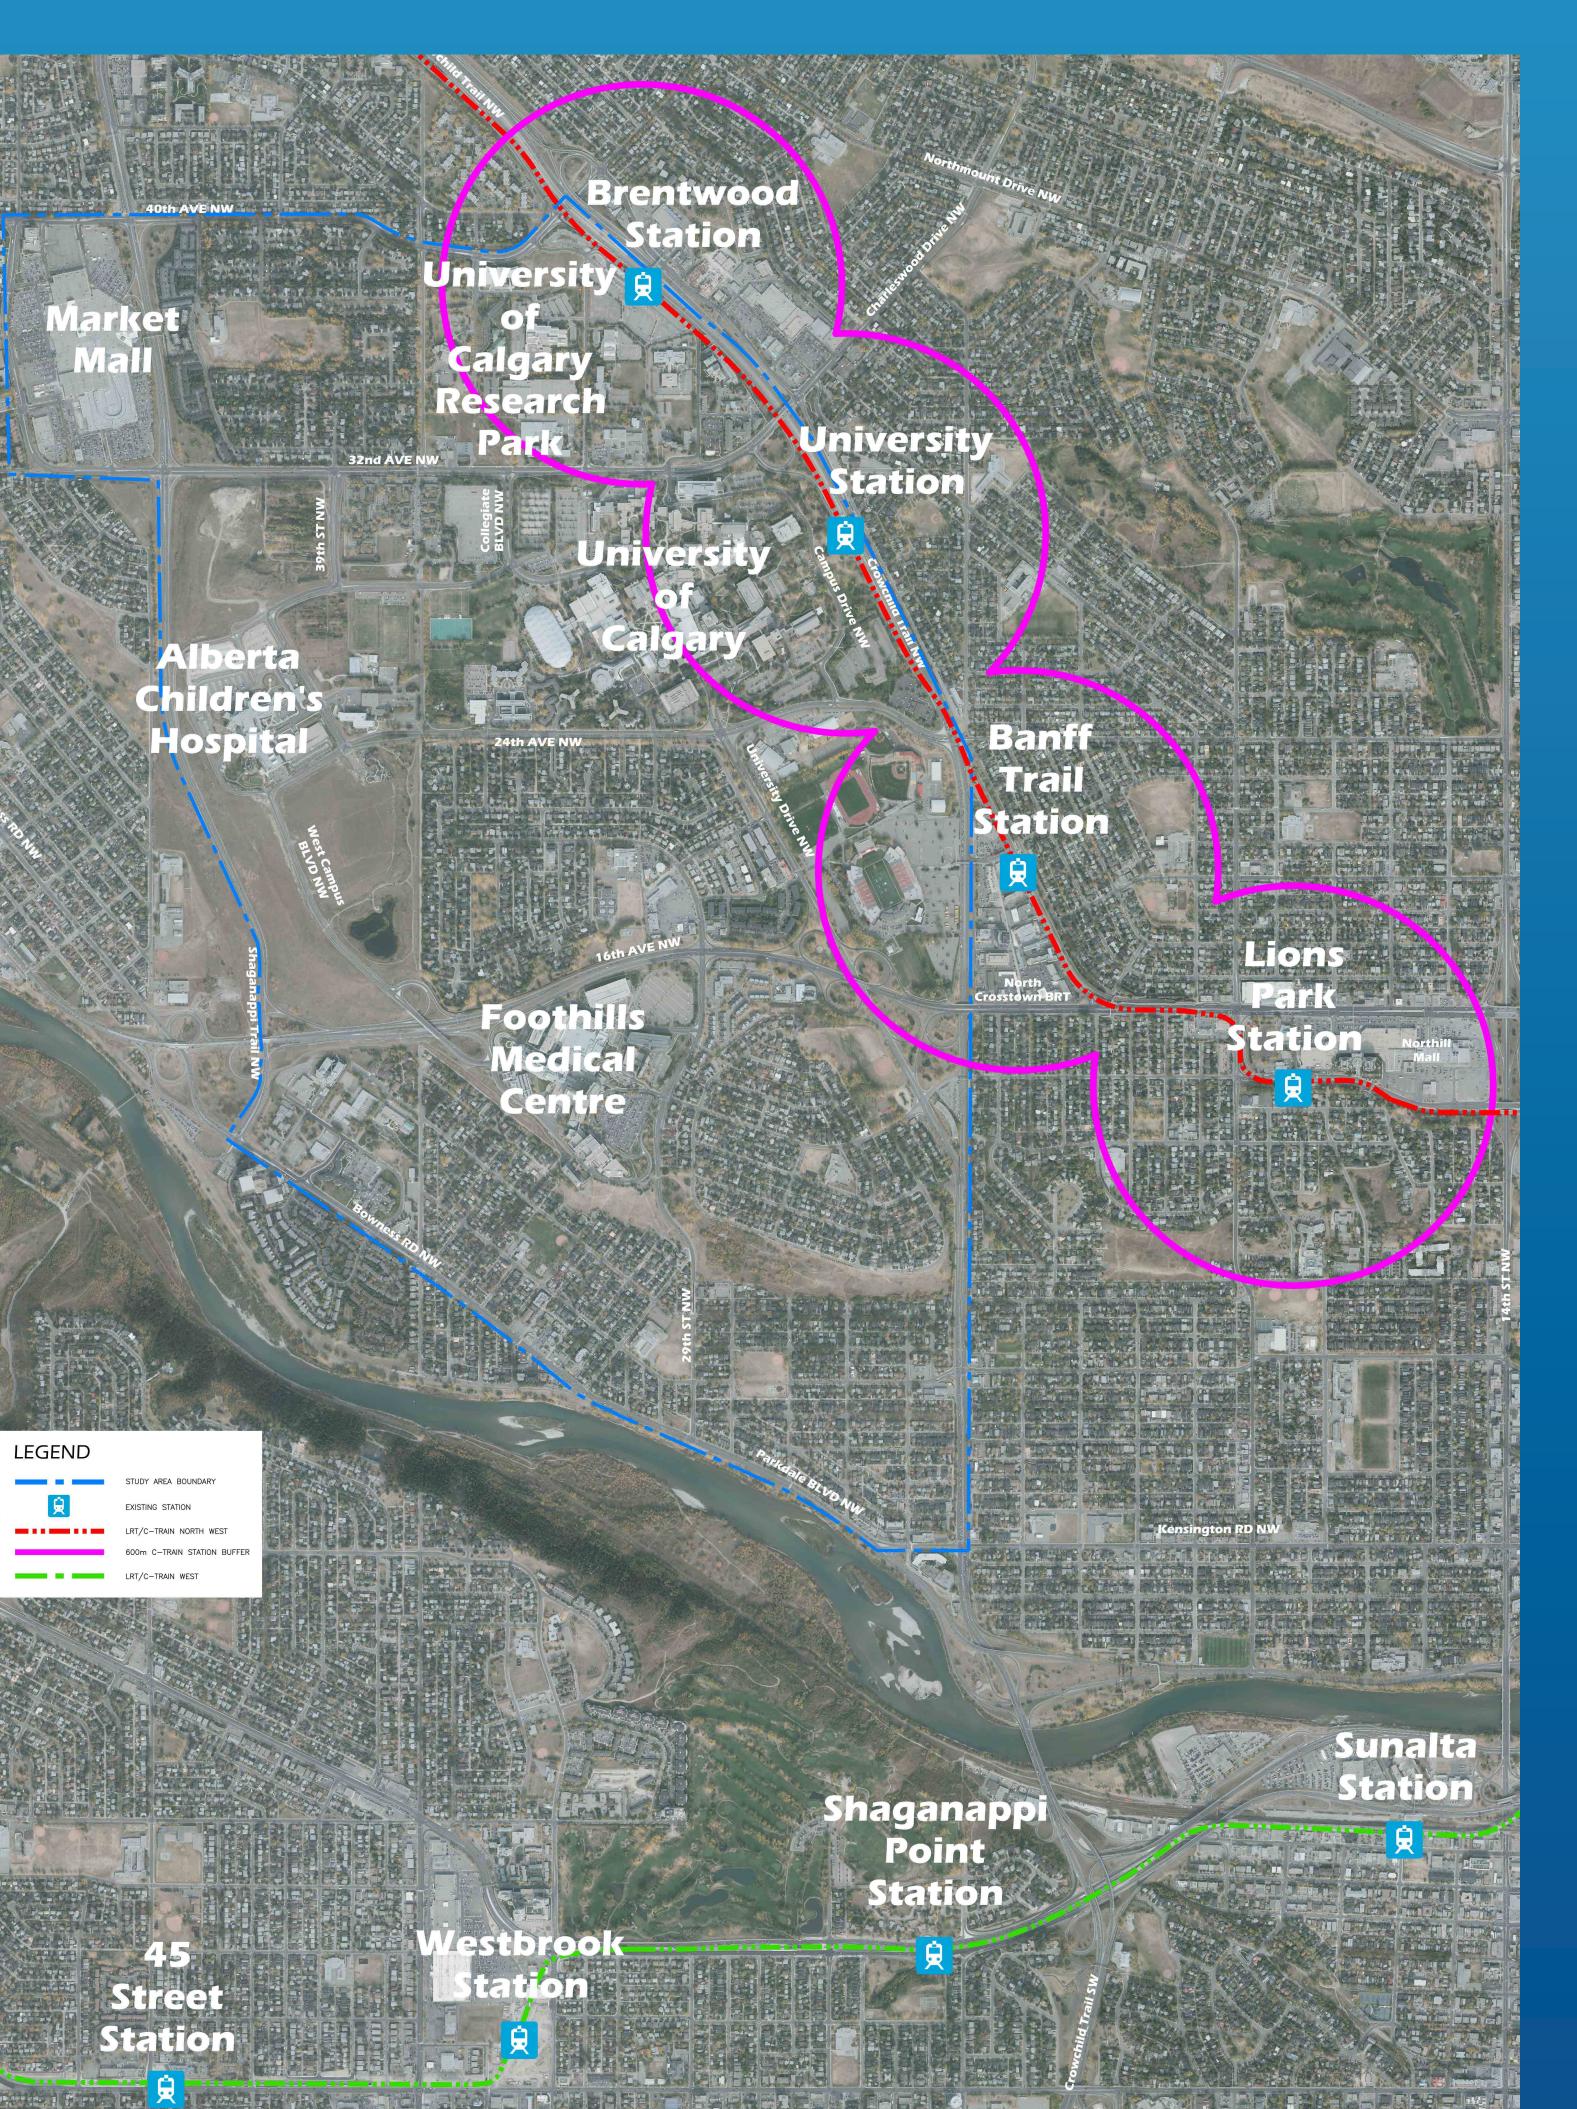

Co-sponsored study by University of Calgary and Alberta Health Services

Study Purpose

- 2nd largest existing employment centre in Calgary
- Growth in next 30 years
 - + 77,000 residents and 65,000 jobs
 - + West Campus Development coming
- Post World War II development pattern, circuitous road network
- Challenge to deliver efficient and effective transit service
- Last mile problem LRT on periphery of area
- 70% of University commuters arrive via car

Objectives

- Develop and evaluate new transit lines / technologies
- Enhance transit priority on existing
- Integrate cycling and pedestrian connections

Analysis

- Assessed 25 year travel demand, nearly 40,000 trips coming to area in AM peak
- Reviewed land use plans Integrating transit grid network with new line options
- Reviewed bus ridership and modeled intersection capacity
- Developed multiple account evaluation criteria with stakeholders
- Conducted major online Choicebook public engagement with 3000 participants www.itsyourhub.ca

Automated People Mover

cima.ca

Oriented Development